V.	CONCLUSION	40

I. INTRODUCTION

Zimbabwe holds elections every five years to elect councillors, Members of Parliament (MPs) and the President. In-between the election cycle, by-elections may be conducted to fill in vacancies arising within the National Assembly and local authorities. Upon a seat falling vacant, by-elections are supposed to be conducted within 90 days to fill in the vacancy. By-elections were last conducted in 2019 as they were indefinitely suspended, from early 2020, on account of COVID-19. This publication is a consolidated profile of the 28 National Assembly constituencies in which by-elections will be held. In line with the mission of promoting democratic elections in Zimbabwe, ZESN effectively gathers, disseminates and communicates objective information about elections and other democratic processes. This profile of 28 constituencies, communicates objectively to stakeholders ahead of the 26 March by-elections.

II. BACKGROUND

Following the promulgation of Statutory Instrument (SI) 2 of 2022, President Mnangagwa proclaimed 26 March for the holding of by-elections to fill in vacancies. There are 28 vacancies in National Assembly seats and 122 vacancies in local authority seats emanating mainly from recalls and deaths.

i. Causes of Vacancies

Of the 28 vacant seats in the National Assembly, 19 resulted from the recalling of Members of Parliament (MPs) who were elected on the ticket of the MDC Alliance in the 2018 harmonised elections. After the 2018 elections, there were disputes in the MDC Alliance that were ultimately settled through the Courts. A Supreme Court judgement of April 2020 upheld a 2019 High Court judgement that nullified the appointment of Advocate Nelson Chamisa and Elias Mudzuri as deputy presidents of MDC-T by Morgan Tsvangirai in 2016. The same judgement also nullified the appointment of Advocate Chamisa as the president of the MDC-T following the death of Tsvangirai in 2018, instead recognising Dr. Thokozani Khupe as the interim leader of the party pending a congress to elect the substantive successor to Tsvangirai.

Consequently, a faction of the MDC-T led by Dr. Khupe, and later Senator Douglas Mwonozora, recalled MDC Alliance MPs arguing that by declaring themselves MDC Alliance members, the MPs had ceased to belong to the MDC-T which they belonged to at the time when the MDC-T joined with other parties to form the MDC Alliance. In effecting the recalls, Section 129 (1) (k) of the Constitution of Zimbabwe was invoked. The Section provides that a Member of Parliament may be recalled if he or she ceases to belong to the political party which he or she was a member of when elected to Parliament.

Vacancies in the other eight National Assembly seats followed the death of the then sitting MPs. In one of the constituencies, a sitting MP was promoted to the post of Zimbabwe's ambassador to Mozambique. Table 1 below shows the constituencies where by-elections will be held, names and sex of former MPs, and the causes of the vacancies.

ii. Indefinite Suspension of By-elections

The 26 March 2022 by-elections are going to be held after a long period of suspension. Ordinarily, and in line with Section 158(3) of the Constitution and Sections 39 and 121 of the Electoral Act, by-elections to fill in vacancies are held within 90 days of the vacancy having arisen. However, the 26 March 2022 by-elections are not in compliance with this constitutional timeframe, with the first by-election (in Ward 16 of Chiredzi Rural District Council) postponed having been initially scheduled for 4 April 2020. This is because by-elections were indefinitely postponed by the government on account of the danger posed by the COVID-19 pandemic.

In the wake of the declaration by President Mnangagwa on 17 March 2020 of the COVID-19 pandemic a national disaster and institution of a raft of measures, including a national lockdown meant to curb the spread of the disease, the ZEC Chairperson announced the indefinite suspension of electoral processes on 25 March 2020. Subsequently, on 9 May 2020, the ZEC's Chief Elections Officer said that all pending by-elections had been suspended in view of the pandemic. Acknowledging that the decision made was necessary in light of the prevailing circumstances, Veritas¹, concluded that the decision was not made in terms of any law and therefore ZEC probably acted unlawfully. Veritas was of the view that while there was little difficulty with the fact that there was a real and immediate danger, and that the danger was not one that the law says must be endured, it is debatable that the step taken (suspending elections) was the only reasonable way of avoiding the danger, and that the interest infringed (the right to participate in elections) was not greater than the interest protected (public health).

On 19 May 2020, the Minister of Justice, Legal, and Parliamentary Affairs, Hon. Ziyambi Ziyambi, said that the government did not have plans to indefinitely postpone the holding of by-elections which he asserted are a constitutional requirement such that a court challenge could be launched if they are not held as stipulated. In October 2020, Vice President and Minister of Health and Child Care, Dr. Constantino Chiwenga, promulgated Statutory Instrument (SI) 225A, indefinitely suspending by-elections. The ZEC, which had earlier developed a policy to guide the conduct of electoral processes amid COVID-19, cited SI 225A as standing in the way of the holding of by-elections the claims Deputy Minister of Health and Child Care, Dr. John Mangwiro dismissed, arguing that his Ministry was not responsible for stopping by-elections as it did not have the role to supervise elections.²

During the period when by-elections were suspended, ZESN issued statements calling for the holding of the by-elections, in compliance with COVID-19 protocols, to ensure adequate representation of the electorate as well as to strike a balance between protecting the health of the people and of democracy. Calls for by-elections were also made in the context of the opening up of other sectors and the resumption of activities with the requirement to adhere to COVID-19 protocols, particularly the convening of large religious and political party gatherings by some churches, political parties, and government officials who were engaging in activities that addressed crowds.

iii. Proclamation of By-elections

On 5 January 2022, through Proclamation 1 of 2022, contained in Statutory Instrument 2 of 2022, President Mnangagwa set 26 March 2022 and 26 January 2022 as the dates for the holding of by-elections and the sitting of the nomination courts for the by-elections, respectively.

iv. Candidates' Nomination

For purposes of the nomination of candidates to contest in the 26 March by-elections, nomination courts sat twice. On 26 January nomination papers were received from candidates wishing to contest in 22 of the 28 National Assembly constituencies. The declaration of vacancies in six other constituencies had been reversed by the High Court which ruled in favour of recalled members of the People's Democratic Party (PDP) party in the MDC Alliance who had argued that the person purported to have recalled them was not a bonafide member of the PDP³. But the High Court order cancelling by-elections in the six constituencies was set aside by the same court on 27 January, resulting in President Mnangagwa issuing another proclamation, contained in Statutory Instrument 16A of 2022, declaring vacancies in the six National Assembly seats. Accordingly, the Nomination Court sat for the second time on 28 January 2022 to receive nomination papers for by-elections in Pumula; Nkulumane; Kambuzuma; Harare East; Mutasa South; and Mbizo constituencies.

Against the background of a contest over the 'MDC Alliance' name, Douglas Mwonzora, wrote to ZEC notifying the Commission that his party would contest by-elections using the name 'MDC Alliance'. Ultimately, Nelson Chamisa, who contested as a presidential candidate of the MDC Alliance in 2018, launched a new political party, the Citizens Coalition for Change (CCC), ahead of the sitting of the Nomination Courts. Prospective candidates who were members of the MDC Alliance led by Chamisa were nominated under the CCC party. Table 2 below shows the outcomes of the 26 and 28 January nomination courts sittings.

III. PRE-ELECTION ENVIRONMENT AND PROCESSES

i. Voter Registration

ZEC Chairperson, Justice Priscilla Chigumba, told the media on 13 January 2022 in a briefing that for National Assembly by-elections, the voters' rolls closed two days after the proclamation of the date of the by-elections by the President, which is in accordance with Section 26A of the Electoral Act and that for the local authority by-elections, the voters' rolls for wards closed when the vacancies occurred, as provided in Section 121A (3) of the Electoral Act. There is a possibility that many potential voters and stakeholders were not aware of the aforementioned provisions. ZEC postponed a BVR blitz, initially scheduled for December 2021, to February 2022. Had it not been postponed, the BVR blitz could have afforded those not registered to register during the blitz and vote in the 2022 National Assembly by-elections.

ii. Voter Education

ZEC normally conducts voter education (VE) ahead of elections, by-elections included. ZEC conducted VE for nomination in relation to the 26 March by-elections. At the time of writing, ZEC had finished the phase 1 of the mobile BVR blitz which ended on 28 February 2022. ZEC VE teams were going ahead of voter registration teams to raise awareness about the mobile BVR blitz. On 7 January, ZEC published a list of CSOs accredited to provide VE, warning those not accredited not to be involved in the provision of VE as they would be acting outside the law.

iii. Candidates Selection Processes

With the exception of Mwenezi East and Chivi South, ZANU-PF primary elections to select candidates for the National Assembly elections were held in January 2022. The Mwenezi East primary election was held in May 2021. It was reported in the media that a headmaster at a local school had participated and won the primary election. The participation of civil servants in partisan politics is in contravention of Section 200 (4) of the Constitution which bars members of the Civil Service from being office-bearers of any political party. In Chivi South, the ZANU PF primary election was held in October 2020, following the recall of Killer Zivhu in July of the same year.

The rest of ZANU-PF primary elections were held in January 2022. There were allegations and accusations of electoral malpractices in primary elections in a number of provinces.⁴ The primary elections were held against the background of the party's District Coordinating Committees (DCCs) and Provincial Coordinating Committee elections held in 2019 and 2020 and in 2021, respectively, which in many cases were reportedly marred with violence, vote buying, and vote rigging, among other malpractices⁵.

Sometime in 2021, the MDC Alliance led by Chamisa indicated plans to field candidates ‘wanted by the grassroots and community leaders outside the party structures’.⁶ The community-based candidate selection process would not work in the same way as primary elections. The party also indicated plans to field recalled MPs as its candidates in the by-elections. After Nelson Chamisa launched the CCC, most of the recalled MDC Alliance MPs were nominated as by-elections candidates for the party.

Candidate selection processes in MDC- Alliance were not clear. Some people who had been listed on the party candidates list for 26 March by-elections withdrew their names at the last minute citing various reasons leading to a situation where the party failed to contest in some constituencies.

iv. Campaigns

Reports received from ZESN observers indicate that in many constituencies, campaigns by prospective candidates interested in contesting in the by-elections started well before the proclamation and nomination processes. During the campaigns, there was evidence of the selective application of COVID-19 restrictions and the Maintenance of Peace and Order Act (MOPA) to benefit the incumbent and disadvantage the opposition.

ZANU-PF launched its by-election campaigns with a rally in Epworth on 12 February 2022. The rally, which was addressed by party senior leadership including the party president Emmerson Mnangagwa and Vice President Dr. Constantino Chiwenga, was reportedly attended by thousands of supporters. Addressing supporters at the rally, Mnangagwa promised residents of the informal settlement that the government would grant title deeds for their properties and regularize the settlements. Subsequently, ZANU-PF held rallies in Marondera, Kwekwe, Chegutu and Tsholotsho.

The CCC launched its by-elections campaign on 20 February 2022 at Zimbabwe Grounds in Highfield. The rally was held under conditions set by the Police, including that the party was expected to control the behaviour of its members before, during and after the launch; members would not intimidate passers-by and those who had nothing to do with the party’s campaign launch; people would not be bussed from other constituencies; and members would not be involved in toyi-toying, convoying of vehicles of people chanting slogans and singing and disseminating hateful and defaming information. The carrying of dangerous weapons at the gathering was strictly prohibited and cooperation with all government agencies was urged. The party was also urged to observe COVID-19 regulations outlined by the government⁷. The Police indicated that any deviation would result in the dispersing of the crowd.⁸

On the 26th and 27th of February, CCC rallies were scheduled for Gokwe and Kwekwe respectively. The Gokwe rally failed to materialize after people were allegedly dispersed by members of the Zimbabwe Republic Police (ZRP). It was reported that although the ZRP had earlier authorised CCC to hold their rally in Gokwe, they later claimed that they had manpower shortages and instructed the opposition party to postpone the event. Skirmishes between the police and the party supporters were reported.

At the Kwekwe rally of the CCC, violence broke out when the party's president, Nelson Chamisa, was addressing the rally. The CCC has alleged that the perpetrators of the violence were ZANU-PF supporters disguised in CCC party regalia. While the party's president was being taken off the stage by his security personnel, the party's organizing secretary and Mkoba constituency candidate, Amos Chibaya, rushed to the microphone to urge CCC's youths to retaliate.

The MDC Alliance, led by Douglas Mwonozora, officially launched their campaign for the 26 March by-elections with a rally at Zororo Grounds in Highfield. The LEAD party led by Linda Masarira had a scheduled rally in Epworth to launch their campaign for the by-elections. Streaming live on Facebook, Open Parly as well as 263 Chat reported that the LEAD rally had been disrupted by ZANU-PF members.

Generally, there have been reports, incidents and allegations of violence and an unlevel electoral field in the pre-election period. It was alleged that on 14 February, the ZANU-PF campaign team had been attacked in Bulawayo⁹. The opposition parties, particularly CCC, have accused the members of the ZRP of treating them unfairly when compared to other parties. For instance, on 8 February, CCC alleged that 12 of their members had been arrested at a roadshow in Mkoba (Gweru). It was also reported that Tendai Biti, a candidate and vice president of CCC had been arrested by the police in Greendale. State media, however, disputed the claim¹⁰.

In their campaigns, political parties are using different methods. Apart from the face to face rallies, campaign posters are being used, mostly by ZANU-PF and CCC.

v. By-elections Constitutional Court Challenge

On 02 March 2022, a case was filed at the Constitutional Court, challenging the constitutionality of the 26 March by-elections. In the case, four applicants who cite President Mnangagwa and the ZEC as respondents are seeking an order declaring the proclamations for by-elections null and void. The applicants’ main argument is that the President failed to follow the timelines for by-elections as set by Section 158 (3) of the Constitution. The applicants further argue that the Constitution does not provide for a ‘General’ by-election of 28 National Assembly. The applicants also state that, because the next harmonized elections would be in 16 months, it would be better not to hold the by-elections than commit financial resources of a struggling country to an election whose outcome would not alter Parliament in any significant way. The bid to stop the by-elections has since been challenged through an application filed by CCC Highfield West constituency parliamentary candidate. Another application to the Constitutional Court challenging Sengweni’s application has since been filed jointly by two Harare residents. The case was still pending at the time of writing, and election preparations appeared to be in full swing.

In line with the mission of promoting democratic elections in Zimbabwe, ZESN effectively gathers, disseminates and communicates objective information about elections and other key electoral processes such as by-elections. This profile of 28 constituencies, communicates objectively to stakeholders ahead of the 26 March by-elections.

IV. CONSTITUENCY PROFILES

i. BINGA NORTH

Binga North is one of the two constituencies in Binga District, Matabeleland North Province. It has fifteen wards (Wards 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 22, 23, and 24). The constituency borders the Midlands and Mashonaland West Province to the east and Nkayi to the south. Its northern border is defined by the Zambezi river. Fishing and farming are the main economic activities. Weaving and braiding for tourists is another way people use to supplement income. Infrastructure such as schools and road networks is poor.

The constituency was created in 2008 following the division of Binga into two constituencies namely Binga North and Binga South. In the 2018 elections, the constituency had 33 716 registered voters (20 846 female and 12 870 male). The Binga North by-election follows the recall of Sibanda Dubeko Prince who was elected under the MDC-Alliance in 2018.

Previous Election Results

In the 2018 harmonized elections, Sibanda Dubeko Prince of MDC-Alliance won the Binga North seat with 18 428 votes. There were a total of seven (7) candidates. Of the seven only one contested as independent.

	Name of Candidate	SEX	PARTY	Votes Received
1	Mudenda Cephassiangoma	M	ZANU-PF	7 751

2	Mudimba Jessie	F	PRC	621
3	Munkuli Funwell	M	NCA	403
4	Muntanga Robert Baggio	M	ZIPP	384
5	Mwembe Peter	M	NPF	191
6	Siampuwo Robert	M	INDEPENDENT	133
7	Sibanda Dubeko Prince	M	MDC-A	18 428

Electoral History of the Constituency

The constituency has been a stronghold of the MDC (MDC-T/MDC Alliance) since 2008 when the constituency was created. At the time, Binga constituency was divided into two, the larger Binga constituency seat had an MDC MP. Prince Dubeko Sibanda won the seat twice in a row in 2013 and 2018 under MDC. After being recalled in 2020, Sibanda will compete against four other candidates namely Peggie Mudimba (MDC-Alliance), Disciple Mukuli (Independent), Munsaka Kudakwashe Mavula (ZANU-PF), and Clive Muzamba (United Democratic Alliance).

Five candidates will participate in the 26 March 2022 by-election, two less than the seven who participated for the parliamentary seat in the 2018 elections. Except for Sibanda Dubeko Prince, all the other candidates did not contest in the 2018 elections. Sibanda Dubeko Prince is seeking re-election, this time contesting under the CCC.

ii. CHIVI SOUTH

Chivi South is one of the 26 constituencies in Masvingo province. Chivi South is made up of 11 wards. xv. KWEKWE CENTRAL Kwekwe Central is an urban constituency, comprising Kwekwe, Globe and Phoenix. The 2008 delimitation removed rural parts from this constituency and created three other constituencies. People derive livelihoods from the mines and farms that surround the town. However, most of the gold mines have since closed and illegal gold panning has grown to unprecedented levels, which has resulted in environmental degradation. Kwekwe Central falls under Kwekwe Municipality and covers eight (8) wards (1, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 13 and 14). In 2018, the constituency had a total of 24 434 (12 502 female and 11 929 male) registered voters and 36 polling stations.

Previous Elections Results

Seven candidates contested for the seat in 2018 and the results were as follows:

Name of Candidate	Sex	Party	Votes received
Chebundo Blessing	M	MDC Alliance	7127

Madhonoru Tongai	M	ZIPP	124
Matambanadzo Masango	M	NPF	7578
Matina Otto Owen Mhareyashe	M	Independent	57
Mugabe Kandros	M	ZANU-PF	4571
Muparazi Learnmore	M	PRC	68
Maupa Josiniah	M	Independent	978

Electoral History of the Constituency

The current size of the constituency was determined in the 2008 delimitation exercise. In 2000, Blessing Chebundo (MDC) won the seat with 15 388 ahead of Emmerson Mnangagwa (ZANU-PF) who had 5 352. Chebundo was re-elected in 2005 and 2008 before he lost to Masango Matambanadzo (ZANU-PF) in 2013 with a narrow margin. Matambanadzo was re-elected in 2018 before passing away in July 2020. The by-election in Kwekwe Central is to fill in the vacancy that arose.

xvi. MARONDERA CENTRAL

Marondera Central constituency is one of the 23 National Assembly seats in Mashonaland East Province. It mainly comprises Marondera town and the residential areas close to the town centre. The constituency was born out of Marondera East and Marondera West constituencies after the delimitation exercise of 2008. Commercial farms surround the town and the predominant economic activities in the area revolve around farming activities and trading in farm produce. Marondera Central is divided into 12 wards (1 up to 12) governed by the Municipality of Marondera. In 2018, the constituency had a total of 29 079 registered voters (15 508 females and 13 571 males) and 40 polling stations.

Previous Election Results

Eight candidates (1 female and 7 male) contested for the seat in 2018 and the results were as follows:

Names of Candidates	Sex	Party	Votes Received
Chasesa Fred	M	People's Rainbow Coalition.	288

Electoral History of the Constituency

In 2008 Marondera Central Constituency was won by MDC T candidate James Ian Kay, who garnered 8 022 votes against 3 170 votes amassed by Peter Murwira (ZANU PF). In 2013 the seat was retaken by ZANU PF with Ray Kaukonde garnering 9 308 votes while the MDC-T candidate James Ian Kay polled 7 892 votes. In 2018, however, Caston Matewu managed to win the seat with a much wider margin. Matewu got 14 604 votes, 6 218 votes ahead of runner up Cleopas Kundiona of ZANU PF. The vacancy in Marondera Central follows the recall of Caston Matewu by MDC-Alliance. Matewu will be contesting under CCC.

xvii. MARONDERA EAST

Marondera East Constituency covers ward 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, 19, 20, 21, 22 and 23 of Marondera Rural District Council. In 2018, the constituency had a total of 27 603 registered voters (13 455 female and 14 148 male) and 67 polling stations.

Previous Elections Results

Chakaingesu Musekiwa	M	MDC-Alliance	4 604
Chidakwa Patrick	M	ZANU PF	18 365
Mandaza Moses	M	Zimbabwe Labour Party	187

Electoral history of the constituency

Marondera East is a ZANU PF stronghold. The closest that the opposition got to getting the seat was in 2000 when Sydney Sekeramayi (ZANU PF) won with a narrow margin of 63 votes. Sekeramayi garnered 10,692 against 10 629 that were polled in favour of Didymus Munenzva (MDC). Ever since, ZANU-PF has been winning the seat safely. In 2005 Sydney Sekeramayi (ZANU-PF) got 19 192 against the 10 066 polled for James Ian Kay (MDC). In 2008 Tracy Mutinhiri (ZANU-PF) emerged victorious. Mutinhiri was expelled from ZANU-PF and recalled from Parliament in 2012. After crossing the floor to join MDC-T, Mutinhiri lost an election to Jeremiah Chiwetu (ZANU-PF). Jeremiah Chiwetu (ZANU PF) won the seat with 15 626 votes ahead of Tracy Mutinhiri (MDC-T)' 2 113 votes. Again in 2018, ZANU-PF, represented by Patrick Chidakwa, won the seat with a wider margin. The by-election was proclaimed following the death of Patrick Chidakwa in 2020.

xviii. MBERENGWA SOUTH

Mberengwa South Constituency is one of the four parliamentary constituencies in the district of Mberengwa in Midlands Province. The Constituency was created in 2008 following the subdivision of Mberengwa Constituency. The Constituency covers 10 wards (Wards, 18, 19, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, and 28) of Mberengwa Rural District Council. In the 2018 harmonized elections, the Constituency had a total of 19 658 registered voters (11 805 female and 7 853 male) and 51 polling stations.

Mberengwa South is a ZANU PF stronghold. In 2008, the seat was won by ZANU PF. In 2013, the seat was won by Chiratidzo Mabuwa (ZANU PF) with over 86% of the casted vote. ZANU PF, represented by Alum Mpofu, managed to secure the seat in 2018. Alum Mpofu died in March 2021, leading to a vacancy.

xix. MBIZO

Mbizo is a high density suburb in Kwekwe, Midlands province. It is located east of the city centre, across the railway line from the ferro-chrome factory Zimbabwe Mining and Smelting Company (ZIMASCO). The suburb is divided into numerous sections, each of which is assigned a number from one to twenty. Mbizo Sections One and Two are the earliest parts of the suburb, which were intended to accommodate low-cost labor for the gold mining in uptown. Mbizo constituency covers six wards (Ward 2, 3, 4, 5, 11 and 12) of Kwekwe Municipality. In 2018, Mbizo had a voter population of 29 549 registered voters (15 814 female and 13 735 male) and 39 polling centres.

Sambayi Ekbate	M	Independent	1633
Shinyira Tapfuma	M	ZIPP	141
Zhavairo Onesimo Tafireyi	M	PRC	162

Electoral History of the Constituency

Mbizo became a constituency following the delimitation exercise in 2008. Prior to that, Mbizo was part of Kwekwe Constituency. Emmerson Mnangagwa (ZANU PF) was the MP in that Constituency up to the year 2000 when he was defeated by Blessing Chebundo of the MDC T. After the delimitation process in 2008 Settlement Chikwinya became MP for Mbizo Constituency. Chikwinya was re-elected in 2013 although ZANU-PF slightly closed the margin. Settlement Chikwinya was recalled by the MDC-T in 2015 after joining the MDC Renewal.

By-elections were conducted in June 2015. Following their decision to boycott the elections until reforms were implemented, the MDC-T did not field any candidates. Vongaishe Mupereri (ZANU-PF) won the by-election. In 2018, Settlement Chikwinya contested under MDC-Alliance and won the seat. He was however recalled in 2021. Chikwinya is contesting under CCC. Chikwinya will contest against Lovemore Chibukwe (UDA), Brave Mapfumo (MDC-ALLIANCE), Gladys Mutunami (UZA) and former legislator Vongaishe Mupereri (ZANU PF).

In the 2013 elections, Zenzo Sibanda of ZANU-PF won the seat with 4 736 ahead of Maxwell Dube of MDC-T who had 3 976 votes. Zenzo Sibanda managed to secure the seat in the 2018 elections with a much wider margin, getting 8 283 votes ahead of Innocent Nkomo of MDC-Alliance who had 2 508 votes.

V. CONCLUSION

ZEC will conduct by-elections in 28 National Assembly and 122 local authority by-elections to fill in vacancies that arose mostly from the recalling of MPs and Councillors elected on tickets of the MDC Alliance in the 2018 harmonised elections. This profile of constituencies focused on 28 constituencies where by-elections will be conducted. In the last elections, 20 of the parliamentary seats in this profile were won by the MDC Alliance, 7 by ZANU-PF, and one by the NPF. The vacancies have not been filled for a period of time that goes far beyond the 90 days within which vacancies should be filled in line with the Constitution. By-elections were indefinitely suspended on account of the danger posed by COVID-19, despite that other activities that could equally expose people were allowed to resume. The prolonged suspension of by-elections denied people representation and had negative effects on democracy. Ahead of the 26 March by-elections, cases of violence have been recorded, vitiating the by-elections' credibility, particularly in the affected constituencies.
